FDA APPROVES SILICONE IMPLANTS

Dr. Lille was recently featured on CBS Evening News discussing the recent approval of silicone gel implants by the F.D.A. Dr. Lille was one of the Board Certified Plastic Surgeons involved in the clinical trials of the silicone gel implants, and consequently has extensive experience with both saline and silicone gel implants. Each has certain advantages over the other, and Dr. Lille noted that although the newer silicone gel implants may create a more natural look, the determination on which to use should be based on the individual. Dr. Lille realizes the importance of a natural appearance and works with his patients to determine which implant is best.
